The Pilgrim Mother's Dinner NEW DEPARTURE FOR HOME PROTECTION

The annual dinner given last week Jaeger's Hall, Belleville, by the Voman's Suffrage League of New lork City, in honor of the Pilgrim Mothers, was in several senses one of the most elegant and significant en tertainments of the season.

The menu was in Jaeger's best tyle and could but satisfy the most astidious. But the special charm was in the character of the assemblage and the responses to the toasts-Elizabeth Cady Stantore, Susan B. Faithful to the Kilt. One of the last of the Scotsmen who never forsook the kilt, but wore it in season and out, has passed away in Mr. Alexander Robertson of Dunkeld, known locally as "Dundonnachie," who was son of a former rector of Dumfries and a man of mark in his district. His notoriety dated from 1857, when he began an agitation for removing the toll from the bridge over the Tay at Dunkeld on the ground that the Duke of Athole, who got the money, was not entitled to it. The military had to be called in to protect the tollbar, and "Dundonnachie" got sent to jail for the obsolete offense of "murmuring a judge," under an act which had not been enforced for three centuries, Constant brooding over his wrongs impaired his intellect, and his life has been spent in a vain endeavor to get his conviction canceled .- London The Marriage Line. An interesting discussion has sprung up among the palmists in regard to the line of the hand known as the marriage collection of shells as souvenirs of a line. One recognized authority says that when this line curves upward the possessor is not likely to marry at all. Other experts reply that they know many married and happy people with such a line. It is also alleged that the transverse line on the "hill of Mer-Chirological society. "Our opinion," says the editor of the party organ, "is that these lines are signs of attachment, ICE CREAM & ICES, and there is scarcely a hand ever seen without at least one in the hand of either married or unmarried people."
